

Getting here by public transport

Due to limited parking space around the grounds of the University Hospital of Essen, we recommend that patients and visitors travel by public transport. The University Hospital is in a central location and therefore very easy to reach by bus or train: The underground rail services and tram services run every 10 minutes during the day.

U From Central Station, take the U17 towards Margarethenhöhe to the University Hospital. Get off at the „Holsterhauser Platz“ stop.

H Tram line no. 101/106 stops at the main entrance of the University Hospital of Essen. It is a circular service connecting Essen suburbs such as Borbeck and Altendorf with Central Station and the University Hospital. Line 101 travels clockwise along this circular route, and Line 106 travels anti-clockwise. This means: Take one line on the outward journey, and the other one back.

H The „Klinikum“ stop on the 160 and 161 bus routes is also near the main entrance. The buses will also take you to Borbeck and Stoppenberg.

TAXI There is also a taxi rank beside the main entrance on Hufelandstraße. Staff at the car entrance security gate (tel. 02 01/723-26 17) and on the wards will also be happy to call taxis for patients.

A From Düsseldorf International Airport you can travel to the University Clinic either by train (the S1 or RE1 service) to Essen Central („Hauptbahnhof“) and change there onto the U17 to the University Hospital („Universitätsklinikum“).

Getting here by car

P Parking is available in multi-storey car parks near the main entrance on Hufelandstraße and also on Virchowstraße (charges apply). Entry and exit are permitted at any time of day or night. If you're staying as an in-patient you can purchase discounted car park tickets for your entire stay at the car entrance security gate. For details of the various tariffs, just ask the staff at the security gate or call them on 02 01/723-26 17. Persons donating blood or blood platelets at the Institute of Transfusion Medicine are allowed to use the multi-storey car parks free of charge.
